

SEE BLOCKADE OF SPAIN IN NEAR FUTURE

Claim Soviet Raised Huge Sum To Aid Leftists

London, Aug. 10.—(P)—An airtight blockade of Spain by neutral powers was described in authoritative quarters tonight as an immediate prospect.

This assertion followed Great Britain's third protest to belligerents in the Spanish civil conflict.

Today's protest was against the shelling of an English yacht and the death of its owner, Captain Rupert Savile, during a rebel attack on Gijon in the Bay of Biscay.

Previous representations to both Spanish leftists and rebels dealt with shelling of British ships in the Gibraltar Straits.

The Savile incident, officials here asserted, added impetus to the drive to make effective the nine power neutrality pact with France and Britain.

Paris, Aug. 10.—(P)—France's optimistic view of her nine-power neutrality proposal in the Spanish Civil War was tempered tonight by fear rebel troops may endanger the Tangier international zone in Morocco.

Officials here asserted the Tangier governing committee already had undertaken negotiations with Gen. Francisco Franco, rebel commander, for removal of Spanish Moroccan troops posted at the entrance to the militarized zone.

The committee's attitude, it was explained, was similar to that of France toward Italians in Ethiopia. France's government is not recognized officially, but circumstances compel conferences with rebel leaders controlling neighboring territory concerning guarding the borders and the recognition of passports.

Paris, Aug. 10.—(P)—The Soviet has raised more than a third of a billion francs, approximately $22,000,000, to support the leftist government of Spain, the newspaper Le Matin charged today, by selling platinum and precious stones to buy foreign currency.

The money, it said, is to be turned over by President Manuel Azana of Spain, under an agreement with the Spanish communist party, to purchase equipment for an international corps of volunteers.

Communist cells in various ports, LeMatin asserted, have been ordered to begin recruiting seamen to reinforce the loyal part of the Spanish army.

Berlin, Aug. 10.—(P)—Two more German torpedo boats have been dispatched to Spanish waters, it was announced here today, to speed evacuation of refugees slowed by the Madrid government's seizure of German airplanes.

The torpedo boats Kondor and Moeve will assist in evacuating 1,400 German citizens still reported in Spain. Only 300 indicated a desire to remain.

Evacuation to Alicante hitherto had been carried forward by use of airplanes.

Lewis Committee Chooses to Ignore Suspension Threat

10 Unions to Be Ejected from AFL Unless Union Drive is Abandoned

Washington, Aug. 10.—(P)—John L. Lewis' committee for industrial organization decided tonight to disregard the American Federation of Labor executive council's suspension threat.

The committee made its decision at an unheralded meeting late tonight in the United Mine Workers' headquarters.

In the course of the prolonged struggle between the Federation's craft and industrial union factions, the executive council last Wednesday directed that the 10 unions affiliated with the Lewis committee be suspended September 5 unless they withdrew from the committee beforehand.

PARTY SANTA CLAUS FOR 35 YEARS DIES

Kansas City, Aug. 10.—(P)—John C. McGurty, 68, who had played the role of Santa Claus at the Mayor's Christmas tree parties for 35 years, died today at General hospital after a heart attack.

Once weighing more than 200 pounds, McGurty had thinned to 130 pounds so that some of his friends hardly recognized him in his latest job in the personnel department of the county collector's office.

Accidental Death Verdict
Elkhorn, Wis., Aug. 10.—(P)—A coroner's jury found today that the deaths of Eileen O'Brien, 21, of Summit, Ill., and Edward Deline, 18, of Harvard, Ill., killed by an automobile, were accidental.

They were struck down Aug. 2 while walking along a road near Delavan Lake.

Sub-Stratosphere Coast to Coast Flight Planned

"Flying Test Tube" Rises To 30,000 Feet in 30 Minutes

Chicago, Aug. 10.—(P)—The first coast-to-coast airplane flight in the sub-stratosphere was scheduled for September 15 today.

A "flying test tube" developed by the Transcontinental and Western Air Line would make the hop from Los Angeles to New York, employees of the line reported.

The ship was now undergoing preliminary tests at Kansas City, Mo., these sources said. There, it was disclosed, the plane rose to 30,000 feet in 30 minutes one day last week.

This was the top of the 10,000 foot thick layer of air which the late Wiley Post popularized as the "sub-stratosphere." In this layer the "test tube" was to fly to test the desirability of passenger flights at that level.

Airmen said the 30,000 to 30,000 foot air blanket was "smoother" for flying than the 6,000 to 12,000 foot layer at which most flights were now made because it was far above clouds and other weather troubles.

Illinois Farmers To Be Given Jobs On WPA Projects

Six Counties in State Designated Drought Territory

Chicago, Aug. 10.—(P)—With six southern Illinois counties designated by the federal government today as drought territory, Major A. R. Lord, assistant state WPA administrator, announced tonight his department would proceed at once to furnish jobs to stricken farmers.

He said he did not yet know how many farmers would be assigned to WPA projects, but that a survey was underway and that all those in dire need would be cared for.

A special appropriation, he said, would be made on the basis of the number of farmers needing assistance, and county WPA quotas would be boosted in conformity.

The counties named as drought areas were Franklin, Gallatin, Hardin, Jefferson, Pope and Saline. It was the first time Illinois has been included officially among the drought states.

Roy Yates, WPA director for Jefferson county, sent an urgent request for relief to the state headquarters here today, stating 1,400 farmers in his territory required "immediate assistance."

To relieve the situation in Washington and Monroe counties, Major Lord said, 50 farmers would be given jobs within the present WPA quota.

Walter Williams, WPA director for southern Illinois counties, previously reported 3,500 farmers in dire need in his area because of the drought.

Testimony Amuses Mrs. Nellie Muench

Says Laugh in Court Worth $25 Contempt Fine

Kahoka, Mo., Aug. 10.—(P)—Mrs. Nellie Tipton Muench laughed and clapped today during retrial on charges she and three others conspired to obtain unlawful possession of an unwed servant girl's day-old son, and the titian haired society matron declared her demonstration was worth a $25 contempt fine.

"Pay it, it's worth it to me," Mrs. Muench said to her husband across the counsel table. Dr. Muench, Attorney Wilfred Jones, and Mrs. Helen Berruyer are co-defendants in the "gift of God" baby case.

The demonstration was precipitated by Mrs. Grace Carolyn Thomason's testimony that Jones was cut on the hand last fall by a sword Mrs. Muench held.

Previously the state's star witness related she talked with the Muenches and Jones about getting a baby that Mrs. Muench could represent as her own. Mrs. Thomason said Mrs. Muench expected to get $250,000 from Dr. Marsh Pittman, wealthy St. Louis physician "who was sold on the idea he was the father."

Mrs. Muench announced birth of a son last August but a court later ruled the child belonged to Anna Ware, Pennsylvania domestic.

CONDEMN TAX EVASION

Chicago, Aug. 10.—(P)—Alleged evasion of sales tax payments by some merchants through fraudulent records of sales was condemned today at the annual meeting of the Illinois Federation of Retail Associations.

Directors of the Federation, representing 40,000 merchants in 200 trade groups in the state, urged that steps be taken to abolish the alleged fraud and pledged co-operation with the finance and legal departments of the state government in enforcing such a move.

Scott Green of the Salem Church neighborhood was among those transacting business in the city yesterday.

NATION'S CORN CROP SMALLEST IN FIFTY YEARS

Report Forecasts A Severe Grain Shortage

Washington, Aug. 10.—(P)—An official forecast that this year's domestic corn crop will be the smallest in 50 years was coupled today with a prediction that much livestock will have to be marketed and grain rations reduced for stock kept over the winter.

Based on August 1 conditions, the prospective 1936 corn harvest was estimated at 1,429,135,000 bushels by the crop reporting board of the department of agriculture. The July 1 estimate—before the drought took its heaviest toll—was 2,244,834,000 bushels. The 1935 production was 2,291,629,000.

"Irrespective of weather conditions during the remainder of the season," the board reported, "there will be a shortage of grain that will necessitate rather heavy marketing of grain-consuming livestock and a reduction in the grain ration of livestock wintered."

The shortage of feed grains will necessitate extensive readjustments of livestock numbers and of feeding practices. The greatest shortage of feed grains will be in corn, the total supply of which will be less than in 1934, and the greatest readjustments in numbers of livestock will be in hogs, which are almost dependent upon corn supplies.

The crop board forecast total wheat production at 632,745,000 bushels, compared with 623,444,000 bushels harvested last year. Spring wheat was estimated at 113,648,000 bushels against 126,314,000 held in prospect on July 1 and a 1935 harvest of 159,241,000 bushels.

With oats forecast at about 772,000,000 bushels, barley at 145,000,000 and grain sorghums at 81,000,000—all very light crops—total production of the four feed grains, including corn, was expected to total about 58,000,000 tons. This would be about 8 per cent more than the final harvest of 1934, but about 31 per cent less than in any other recent year.

Coincident with publication of the crop report, drought relief officials added 30 more counties in seven states to the emergency drought territory bringing the national total to date to 320 counties in 22 states.

Illinois was placed on the list from the first time with six counties being so designated. They were: Franklin, Gallatin, Hardin, Jefferson, Pope and Saline.

Mechanical Heart Will Be Shown By Colonel Lindbergh

Copenhagen, Aug. 10.—(P)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, the unwilling center of attraction at a congress of medical scientists, will demonstrate the "mechanical heart" tomorrow.

The American flier, and co-inventor of the artificial heart with Dr. Alexis Carrel of the Rockefeller Institute, almost boiled the sessions at their opening today, angered by the presence of photographers. He agreed, however, to remain after the photographers consented to limit their pictures to groups.

Col. Lindbergh and Dr. Carrel were to have shown their invention, hailed as an important aid to medical research, today.

The demonstration was postponed until tomorrow, however, and is to be given several times to successive groups of from 20 to 300 scientists each. Original plans to show it at a formal session were abandoned because the apparatus was on display in a small room.

Dr. August Krogh, Danish scientist and like Dr. Carrel a former Nobel prize winner, praised the Lindbergh-Carrel "heart" highly. He invented a similar mechanism five years ago.

"It looks intricate," Dr. Krogh exclaimed, "but it's ingenious and simple."

Although some of the most eminent physicians and scientists in the world attended the meetings in the common hall of the Danish parliament, the general public showed interest in only one personality—Colonel Lindbergh.

First the photographers probed him and he was restrained from walking out only by Dr. Hans Fischer, head of the Danish Biological Institute, who arranged an agreement with the photographers not to center their pictures on the aviator.

Later the crowds which clamored outside the Parliament building got away for a look at Lindbergh made him the focus of more unwelcome attention.

President Plans To Visit Regions Damaged By Flood

Returns to White House After Month's Absence; Leaves Thursday

Washington, Aug. 10.—(P)—After a flood control conference with his aides today, President Roosevelt announced plans for a tour of the flood damaged sections of Pennsylvania and southern New York starting Thursday and an address on foreign affairs at Chautauqua, N. Y., Friday night.

Arrangements for the tour, which include a visit to the Great Lakes Exposition at Cleveland, provide for the president to leave the Capital Thursday. His speech at Chautauqua may be broadcast.

Returning to the White House after a month's absence, Mr. Roosevelt plunged immediately into discussion of government measures to prevent floods such as those that damaged Eastern States last March.

He conferred also with Secretary Swanson and Admiral William H. Standley regarding the possibility of re-establishing a naval squadron in European waters, and shifting vessels protecting Americans in Spain.

On his tour of flood areas, the president will be accompanied by chief of army engineers, Robert Fechner, director of the Civilian Conservation Corps, and representatives of the soil erosion service, the WPA and the national resources committee.

MORMON LEADER SPEAKS

Estes Park, Colo., Aug. 10.—(P)—President Herbert J. Grant, 79-year-old leader of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, today became the first leader of that organization to address a joint meeting of Catholics, Jews and Protestants.

Addressing the Institute of Human Relations, Grant traced history of the church from its organization in 1830. He told of the members being driven out of New York, Ohio, Independence, Mo., and Nauvoo, Ill., and finally of the long trek to Salt Lake City.

SMITH NOT A DELEGATE

New York, Aug. 10.—(P)—John T. Dooley, head of Tammany Hall's law committee, disclosed tonight that former Governor Alfred E. Smith would not be a delegate to the Democratic state convention in September.

He said Tammany's slate of delegates was completed late today. Neither he nor his brother, James J. Dooley, leader of Tammany Hall, would comment on Smith's omission.

'Drummer Boy of Shiloh' Is 85

Famed as the "drummer boy of Shiloh," Brig. Gen. John Lincoln Clem, U. S. A., retired, who enlisted in the Civil War at 19, is observing his 85th birthday in San Antonio, Tex. Shown here as he appeared then and in recent years, "Johnny" drummed and fought at Shiloh and Chickamauga, and was later wounded and held prisoner.

More Americans Prepare to Leave Madrid As Violence Grows; Loyalists Gaining

Mechanical Heart Will Be Shown By Colonel Lindbergh

Madrid, Aug. 10.—(P)—American women and children prepared tonight to flee Madrid as Loyalist forces of the republic claimed capture of 13 rebel towns in the newest offensive of the 24-day civil war.

Between 30 and 40 Americans were to leave by train for Valencia to board the United States warship Quincy for escape to France.

Only about 100 Americans, with business interests here, remained. Several hundred French and British citizens were to depart soon in fear of the growing violence of the war. (A number of Americans were evacuated during the first two weeks of the struggle.)

Capture of the 13 rebel communities, 10 of them in Teruel Province, two near Zaragoza and one close by Oviedo, insured confidence government prediction that the revolt will be crushed shortly.

(Reinforced rebel troops massed for attack in the north of San Sebastian and Irún. San Sebastian was short of food, with citizens lining up to receive rations of bread and water. Milk was distributed for children only.)

(Capture of the town and province of Santander on the Bay of Biscay was claimed in a rebel radio broadcast, and there were indications the oppressed northern Loyalists were in danger of defeat momentarily.)

The Guadarrama mountain chain, where yesterday Loyalist troops killed 800 rebels in a nine-hour battle, was quiet. But in the south insurgent forces were reported on the march to Madrid.

Burgos rebel headquarters announced the southern troops of Gen. Francisco Franco had reached the outskirts of Badajoz, near the Portuguese border, and intended to attack that city before resuming the northward march.

Fascists claimed a victory at Huesca in northeastern Spain, but Barcelona Loyalists pressed their march toward the rebel headquarters at Zaragoza.

(Great Britain forwarded a protest against the shelling of an English yacht in which the owner, Captain Rupert Savile, was killed and his American wife wounded. Mrs. Savile is the former Eloise Drake, of Norwich, Conn. The incident occurred during a rebel attack on Gijon.)

(A Paris newspaper asserted a special emissary of Premier Mussolini of Italy was en route to the Burgos rebel headquarters; this was not confirmed at Burgos.)

(Paris dispatches also carried a Madrid correspondent's report that Miguel Gamazo Maura, former Spanish minister of the interior, had disappeared. Fears were expressed that he had been executed by Leftists.)

(Lisbon, Portugal, heard that a Captain Conde was executed by Fascists on a charge of responsibility for the assassination of Jose Calvo Sotelo, monarchist, at Madrid July 13.)

Barrymore's Name Is Injected Into Astor-Thorpe Case

Thorpe's Attorney Asserts Playwright Kaufman Has Disappeared

Los Angeles, Aug. 10.—(P)—The name of John Barrymore provided a whiff of comedy relief to a session of heavy drama today when Mary Astor testified that the great movie lover hurried straight to her "to tell his troubles" on that September day "when he arrived back from his famous trans-continental trip."

A smile broke over her face as she recalled and described it.

The movie actress obviously was alluding to Barrymore's celebrated flight from Elaine Barrie when, as "Caliban," he scrawled a vast zigzag across the continent from her erstwhile "Ariel."

Miss Astor was testifying in her suit to break the custody award given her ex-husband, Dr. Franklin Thorpe, of their 4-year-old daughter, Marilyn.

Questioned by Dr. Thorpe's attorney, Joseph Anderson, she was asked if Barrymore had visited her at her home. She said he had.

While Miss Astor was testifying, an assertion that George S. Kaufman, noted playwright whose relations with her have been a prominent point in the hearing, had disappeared, came from A. P. Narlian, attorney for Dr. Thorpe.

A bench warrant was issued for Kaufman when he did not answer a subpoena at today's session.

Farm Hand Wages Rising in State

$3.50 More Per Month Than Year Ago, Is Report

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 10.—(P)—The average farm hand in Illinois got a $3.50 monthly boost in his wages during the past year.

"Monthly farm wages paid for hired labor with board in Illinois as reported on July 1 are $28.50 compared with $25 a year ago and $21 on July 1, 1934," said A. J. Surraat, agricultural statistician for the state and federal agricultural departments.

"Farm wages paid for day labor with board on July 1 this season averaged $1.50 against $1.25 a year ago and $1.10 per day on July 1, 1934."

"On July 1 of this season the supply as well as the demand for farm labor was reported at 88 per cent of normal."

On a national scale, farm wages with board were reported at $22.67 compared with $20.41 a year ago.

BOY INJURED IN FALL

St. Louis, Aug. 10.—(P)—Johnny Martin, 10, still was alive but seriously injured tonight after he tumbled 75 feet into a rock quarry.

City hospital attendants said he had a fractured pelvis and internal injuries.

An electric crane was required to lift him from the pit. Police said they believed a protruding ledge broke his fall.

CONVICTED OF WHIPPING SON

Los Angeles, Aug. 10.—(P)—Mrs. Emilie Berman, 30, who was convicted of whipping her son, Leon, 10, severely in his back was covered with welts, was sentenced today to 90 days in jail. She testified she refused to come when she called.

FOREST FIRES RAGE THROUGH SEVEN STATES

150 Separate Blazes Are Reported In Wisconsin

By The Associated Press

Devastating forest fires crackled through timberlands of seven states and parts of Canada last night, defying efforts of thousands of trained and volunteer fire fighters in many sections to bring them under control.

A heavy fog checked a serious grass and brush fire near San Jose, Calif., and in Wyoming 2,000 weary foresters reported they had halted the advance of a fire that raced across 5,000 acres of jack pine forest to menace the town of Moske.

But in northern Minnesota, where the flames wrought the greatest damage in 25 years, residents of two small communities were warned to be ready to flee their homes as the flames advanced steadily against the efforts of 1,500 men.

Prospects of cool weather brought some hope to weary foresters, but 3,500 CCC and WPA workers were mobilized, ready to join the flame fight on a moment's notice. Red Cross aid was rushed to stricken residents of the harassed region.

Six hundred men battled a flame which spread from a peat bog to engulf 1,500 acres of second grade timber along the Canadian boundary of Idaho. Wisconsin officials estimated 150 separate fires were burning in that state. Fear was expressed for the safety of 20 passengers aboard the motor boat "Faith" which left Portage, Mich., Saturday night. Coast guardsmen, plying relief boats from the fire menaced Michigan mainland, said they had not seen the boat.

In Canada, southwestern Alberta was the scene of scores of timber and range land fires, at least six of them whipped to "major" proportions by strong winds. Foresters reported the E. P. Ranch, owned by King Edward VIII, was not in immediate danger, despite advice flames were threatening the vast ranch.

Latest reports said the nearest flames were 15 miles distant from the royal property.

Sultry fires burned in Washington state but apparently the fire fighters had checked the serious advance of the flames there.

Holt Keynoter At First Convention Of Coughlin Group

West Virginia Senator Named To Open Gathering Friday

Cleveland, O., Aug. 10.—(P)—Senator Rush D. Holt (D-W. Va.) was announced today as the keynote speaker of the first national convention of the national union for social justice, opening Friday, which the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin has said would make Cleveland's Republican national convention a "sideshow" in comparison.

Reached at his West Virginia home, Holt, the 31-year-old "baby" of the Senate and outspoken critic of acts of the Roosevelt administration, declined to say what he would discuss in his address. He said only that he would give his own "viewpoints."

Holt's selection was announced by Walter D. Davis, grand marshal of the convention.

Among the speakers, Davis said, will be Rep. William Lemke of North Dakota and Thomas C. O'Brien of Boston, the union party's candidates for president and vice president.

They will appear, together with Father Coughlin, at a giant rally in Cleveland stadium Sunday afternoon which will close the convention. Father Coughlin will make his principal speech of the convention at the rally.

Planes Stage Mock Attack On Troops During War Games

Bombers and Pursuit Planes Engage in Furious Battle

Allegan, Mich., Aug. 10.—(P)—Roaring down out of cloudless skies, 77 powerful planes of the army's GHQ air force theoretically gassed, bombed and machine-gunned various encampments of the Sixth Corps, Second Army, late today.

Bombers of Langley Field, Va., operating as part of the "Red" army which is attacking a "Blue" force encamped in this western Michigan area, swooped over Allegan, Pennville and New Richmond in the formation they would use in dropping the 2,000-pound bombs for which they are fitted.

Then they proceeded to the army concentration areas to the northwest, simulating their attack over each camp. The attack ships, from Shreveport, La., swooped close to the tree tops in power drives to get in position to rain machine-gun fire on the encamped troops.

Pursuit planes from Selfridge Field, Mich., as a defense force, climbed to high altitude, then went into power dives that sent them thundering down and around the larger ships in huge circles. All the planes returned to Selfridge Field after the maneuver.

The aerial exhibition witnessed by a dozen foreign military attaches, was ordered by Major General Frank M. Andrews, commander of the GHQ air force to give the troops new being conditioned for the Western Michigan games a graphic illustration of the part played by planes in modern warfare.

Landon Works On Campaign Speeches

Prepares to Leave for Ranch in Colorado

Topeka, Kas., Aug. 10.—(P)—Gov. Alf M. Landon spent his third successive day in the Kansas executive mansion today, working on campaign speeches and business routine preparatory to leaving tomorrow for his Estes Park, Colo., summer ranch.

Aides went back and forth between the governor's home and office. Research advisers were on call as the presidential nominee studied drafts of speeches he will deliver late this month in West Middlesex, Pa., and Chautauqua and Buffalo, N. Y.

Mumro Roberts of St. Louis, vice president of the International Typographical union, was a visitor. He told reporters "Gov. Landon's labor record is satisfactory and when it becomes more generally known, it will win him votes in labor circles."

The Republican candidate fixed 7:58 p.m. (8:58 p.m. EST) for his departure tomorrow for Colorado. Traveling on the regular Union Pacific train, he will arrive in Denver at 7:30 a.m. (9:30 a.m. EST) and motor 75 miles to the ranch he has leased for the summer. Awaiting him are Mrs. Landon, his children, Peggy Anne Landon, 19, Nancy Jo 4, and Jack, 2, and John Landon the governor's 79-year-old father.

For a week Landon will combine recreation with more work on speeches. Thursday morning, August 20, he will leave to open his eastern campaign. Aides said Mrs. Landon will not accompany her husband.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

Carbondale, Ill., Aug. 10.—(P)—Charles Ramsey of Duquoin was under $5000 bond today on a charge of assault to kill in the shooting and wounding of Special Deputy Sheriff Charles Tuthill at a roadside near here.

Sheriff Ross Osburn said Ramsey seized Constable James Morgan's pistol and shot Tuthill in the knee when the officers attempted to stop a brawl at the roadside early yesterday.

RELIEF BILLS REACH PASSAGE STAGE IN HOUSE

IERC Secretary Will Appear For Hearing Today

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 10.—(P)—Starting the thirty-second week of the longest special session in Illinois history, the house tonight advanced to third reading, the passage stage, bills which it hoped would solve the relief question for the rest of this year.

The administration's plan to finance indigent aid with $3,028,000 state funds and $210,000 local money monthly was moved up without difficulty under the guidance of Representative Benjamin S. Adamowski, Chicago, and F. W. Lewis, Robinson, Ill., but efforts to amend the measures beyond the desires of the majority were rejected.

The proposals turned down were for cash relief in all localities and to eliminate the 30 cent local levy as mandatory before state aid could be given the local governments. Adamowski favored the second amendment, but did not vote for it because he said he feared its addition to the program would defeat the entire plan tomorrow when a final vote is planned.

Republicans, however, jumped on the amendment sponsored by L. F. Arnold, Newton, Mo., and forced him to withdraw it during the roll call. The same forces beat the proposal of Louis E. Lewis, Christopher Dem, for cash relief. Adamowski and F. W. Lewis, stayed out of that controversy, too.

The house worked under the eyes of two relief groups who sought to address the members. They were an organization of social workers and a bloc of township supervisors, but the representatives put them off with a promise that they could have a hearing tomorrow. After tonight's session, however, Speaker John Devine, Dixon, Ill., announced the groups would not be heard until after the vote on the new relief plan.

Republican leaders said they were planning a "hot reception" also for Leo Lyons, secretary of the Illinois emergency relief commission, and Chicago city relief commissioner, when he appears before the house for questioning tomorrow. He was invited at the request of minority leader Leroy Green, Rockford, who said he wanted to find out about the IERC's activities since July 1 when administration was turned back to the local governments.

The relief measures as amended tonight provided that the state would supply $3,000,000 a month through a third of the sales tax and additional revenue appropriated from the general fund. The attack ships, from Shreveport, La., swooped close to the tree tops in power drives to get in position to rain machine-gun fire on the encamped troops.

Pursuit planes from Selfridge Field, Mich., as a defense force, climbed to high altitude, then went into power dives that sent them thundering down and around the larger ships in huge circles. All the planes returned to Selfridge Field after the maneuver.

The Revolt at Detroit

From the St. Louis Post Dispatch
Freedom of political convention
may not be written in the letter of the Bill of Rights, but it is proclaimed
in the spirit, and we are assured,
on high authority, that "the letter
killeth and the spirit giveth life."
The gentlemen who met in Detroit, on call of Sterling Edmunds of St. Louis, to consider what they may best do to prevent Mr. Roosevelt's election, were wholly within their rights as citizens. As such they are entitled to the respect which proper deportment supposedly commands.
For some reason, palpably illogical,
the theory widely prevails that, once honored by a party, the honoree is bound to it forever. The notion was grandiloquently phrased by a good old tub-thumper: "The Democratic party forever. When she's right we'll stand by her, and when she's wrong we'll help to right her." That, of course, is simply emotional balderdash.

Without further preamble, then,
the Detroit meeting of the Constitutional Democrats does not have to be defended. Convinced as they are, or profess to be, that Mr. Roosevelt has renounced the basic principles of the Democratic party and that his policies are subversive of democracy and would, if pressed to their conclusion,
destroy our system of government,
these citizens could support his candidacy only at the price of stultification. This they have refused to do.
Their decision will, we believe, be respected by thoughtful people, however raucous the chorus of sneers and jeers.

An outstanding figure at Detroit was former Gov. Ely of Massachusetts.
A man of brilliant parts, still young enough to count upon a political future, he has put his convictions ahead of expediency. Such a voluntary choice strikes us as admirable. The counsel he offered his associates is also admirable and in character.

Speaking for himself, he made it clear he was not there to "malignize the President." Persuaded the national welfare would be served by Mr. Roosevelt's defeat, his duty, he argued, was to employ the most practical means to accomplish that end.
On that predicate he was going to vote for Mr. Landon, would take the stamp for him, in a word, would put all he had into the fight. But it will be square fighting, with the rules of courtesy and fairness religiously observed.

That, we take it, is sportsmanship
—a quality urgently needed in our political battling and mostly conspicuously wanting.

SO THEY SAY

That metric system has me licked.
I can't tell how far anything is.

Democratic parties) in the next Congress.

ture are Hollywood's chief topics of conversation.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

New Dealers Face Problem in Explaining Increase of Farm Product Imports ...
Big Rise Since 1932 ... But Value of Foreign Purchases
Is Far Below 1929.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington.—The administration is seriously worried by the extent to which farmers are resenting the increase, under the New Deal, of agricultural imports.

Evidence that some of the large western farm states are veering toward Landon is attributed in large part to Republican success in publicizing recent statistics. Six months ago it was commonly believed that benefit payments and higher farm prices would deliver nearly all these states to Roosevelt.

Officials are meeting in secret buddies to determine the best way of convincing the farmer that the import figures are merely an indication of his increased prosperity and not of a disastrous "planned scarcity."

AAA men insist they have a good argument, but that it's difficult to translate into an emotional appeal.
The present drouth makes the imports question important aside from its political aspects, since it seems bound to result in further increase of purchases of farm products abroad,
although the import curve this year has been generally downward.

Imports on Rise

What bites the farmers is that competitive agricultural imports increased from a value of $296,000,000 in 1932 to $623,000,000 in 1935 (this includes about $50,000,000 in alcoholic beverages); cattle imports from 66,000 head
in 1934 to 378,000 in 1935; canned beef
from 19,585,000 pounds in 1931 to 76, 263,000 in 1935; wheat from 3,000 bushels in 1932 to 27,439,000 in 1935; corn
from 160,000 bushels in 1933 to 43,242, 000 in 1935; and butter from 1,014,000 pounds in 1932 to 22,675,000 in 1935.

Many farmers feel that these and other considerable quantities of imported food should have been raised and bought in the United States. They are being told that it is all a direct result of "planned scarcity."

The New Deal is in no position to say that its agricultural adjustment programs had nothing to do with the reductions in food supplies which preceded the big rises in imports, except as it may point out that there were no curtailment program for such commodities as cattle, dairy products, and eggs.

Of the drop in wheat production in the 1934-35 crop year from normal, about 31 million bushels is attributed to drouth and 54 millions to acreage reduction.

In corn the proportions were 1,003,
000,000 bushels below normal as a result of drouth and 182,000,000 because of the AAA.

Not so much butter has been imported as in 1935 since 1923 and wheat and corn imports have reached new high points. But competitive agricultural imports were valued at $1,017,000,000
in 1929, as against $623,000,000 in 1935.
Imports always rise when American prices are high and decline when they're low. Higher consumer purchasing power also stimulates imports,
and, more important to the farmer,
farm imports and farm income tend to rise together.

Thus, while competitive farm imports went up from 296 millions to 623
millions in value from 1932 to 1935, farm income rose from 5,337 millions to 8,110 millions.
In pre-depression years, imports of that type ran around a billion dollars a year and national farm income between 11 and 12 billion. Wheat was selling here for only 38 cents in 1932,
when only 3,000 bushels were imported;
in 1935, when 27 million bushels
were imported, the price averaged 84 cents.

Percentage Is Low

Percentages of imports last year in relation to average national production were Corn, 1.7; wheat, 3.2; beef, 3.0; pork, 0.1; butter, 1.1; eggs, 0.8;
cotton, 0.7; and cheese, 1.0.
Corn imports were only 41 per cent of the drouth loss in corn, wheat imports but 4.5 per cent, and the 378, 000 head of cattle imported last year
compared with a reduction of 4,000,000
head as a result of drouth.

Economists also say that imports
seem to rise in relation to general prosperity, which brings improvement in demand. Thus, from 1932 to 1935
the index of industrial activity rose from 36 to 60 and the index of competitive farm income rose from 25 to 60.

The question of farm exports is another story. The big drop there came prior to 1933 and farm exports have subsequently somewhat increased. But the job of explaining the imports increase is exclusively one for the New Deal.

Jersey Red Cross Holds Its Annual Organization Meet

Officers for Coming Year are Selected; Many Attend
Farm Bureau Picnic

Jerseyville.—The annual organization of the Jersey County chapter of the American Red Cross was held in Chapman Hall Friday evening and a large group attended.

Hon. T. S. Chapman of Chicago
presided as chairman of the meeting and paid a fine tribute to the work of the late Mrs. Harry Schuler, who for many years was in charge of the Red Cross and Health service work in the county. Chapman also revealed some of the objectives and accomplishments of the local chapter in Jersey county in the aiding of physically deficient children of the locality.

Following Chapman's introductory remarks, reports from various officers and departments of the organization were received.

The nominating committee consisting of Dr. H. R. Gledhill, Herbert C.
Bertman and Arthur Thatcher reported, and the following officers were unanimously selected for the ensuing year: Walter A. Leigh, chairman; R.
L. Smith, vice chairman; E. C. Adams,
treasurer; Mrs. Marjorie McMahon, secretary.

Chairman Leigh then made the following appointments for the ensuing year: Homes Service, Miss Mary Hanes; Roll Call, Mrs. Lee Wilkinson;
Accident Prevention, P. J. Fleming;
Publicity, Miss Margaret DeBauw;
First Aid, J. Irving White; Junior Red Cross, Charles Daniels; Disaster Relief, Arthur Thatcher; Executive Committee, T. S. Chapman, J. G.
Schwarz, Irving White, Dr. H. R.
Gledhill and Herbert C. Bertman.

3,000 Annual Picnic Nearly three thousand persons attended the Annual Farm and Home Bureau Picnic held at the American Legion Community Park north of Jerseyville Thursday. The largest attendance was at the evening session
although a good crowd was present for the day's events.

Community singing was enjoyed at the beginning of the afternoon program with Grover Pearce serving as Master of Ceremonies. The address of welcome was made by R. H. Voor-hes, president of the Jersey county Farm Bureau, who also introduced the speaker of the day, Judge James G. Blaine of St. Louis.

Judge Blaine, who has presided at many traffic hearings while serving as Municipal Judge in St. Louis, spoke on Safety and based his remarks on facts learned from actual accidents.
"The main factor in safety, is common sense," Judge Blaine said, "but there are as many smart alecks at the age of fifty as there are at eighteen." He advocated a drivers' license law.

SAFEST DRIVER IN IOWA VISITS HERE

Jas. Middleton Never Goes Over 55 Miles an Hour

Iowa's safest driver is visiting this city at the present time. James W.
Middleton, who won his title in a state-wide contest sponsored by the Commercial Investment Trust Safety foundation, is a former resident of Jacksonville, having lived here all of his life up to 13 years ago when he went to Des Moines to become president of Puritan Laboratories Incorporated. He was called to Jacksonville
by the serious illness of his sister, Mrs. Middleton attributed the reception of his honor to the fact that he has yet to take his first drink of liquor, always keeps his car including brakes and lights, in first class shape, and never drives over 55 miles an hour. He regularly covers 14 states in his business and, although he has driven more than 775,000 miles in 19 years, has never had an accident of any kind and has never been charged with the violation of a traffic law.

Mr. Middleton claims that the average woman can be just as good a driver as the average man. He also maintains that the "other fellow"
must always be given the benefit of the doubt. In setting his 55 mile an hour limit, Mr. Middleton was careful to state that he drives proportionately slower in traffic.

Transported aboard special trains with numerous employees in addition to advance
men, an official of the circus here today furnished some statistics. Five hundred head of draft horses are carried, and innumerable head of ring stock. There are 400 performers, representing 18 foreign countries. Sixty riders headed by the Christian troupe of seven Italian equestrians will be seen along with Al G. Barnes' 40 dancing horses and 40 dancing girls. The Walters troupe of acrobats, who perform high up in the dome of the "big top" will thrill and amaze in equestrian work. Sixty acrobats and 80 clowns will also be a part of the super program.

For more than a quarter of a century the Al G. Barnes Circus has excelled with its trained wild animals. More than a score of international wild animal troupes will be seen. Foremost among them will be seen Best Nelson, who has returned to America
after fresh foreign triumphs. For this season he is presenting a group of 40 lions and tigers in a display of courage, daring and patience.

Tillie, the fan dancing elephant, has gone
high this season with her intricately plu-maged crown and will have the women gazing her jealously. Mary Cornell, one of the pretty girls with the circus, has a prominent place on Tillie's howdah, where she may also shine among the plumes.

The "Fiesta of the Grande," a gorgeous procession of floats with the charm
and romance of old Spain, a glorious fairy-
land spectacle of pantomime, enchantment,
will open the circus performance as a prelude. Superb beyond belief, indescribable, a triumph of modern productions, it is today sweeping all before it with its distinctive appeal and the very vastness of its character. It is the growing spectacle in the long, eventful career of Al G. Barnes.

One thousand men and women, horses and
land spectacle of pantomime, enchantment,
will be heard. Seventy thousand dollars were expended on wardrobes for this gorgeous prologue pageant.

Performances will be given at 2 and 8
P. M. The doors will open at 1 and 7 P. M.

W. D. Gregory, Well Known Salesman of Local Firm, Expires

Death Comes Sunday to One of Veteran Automobile Salesmen of City

William D. Gregory passed away
at his home at 820 South Diamond street, Sunday morning at 9:30, after an illness of several weeks.

Decedent was born January 4, 1890,
near Bloomfield, Illinois, the son of William and Amanda Gregory, who preceded him in death. His childhood was spent in and around Bloomfield and Naples, in Scott County, where he was an active member of the Methodist church.

For the past 18 years Mr. Gregory has been a resident of Jacksonville, 16 years of which he has spent as a Chevrolet salesman. He had been in the Chevrolet service longer than any other man in the city.

On October 23, 1925, he was united in marriage to Anna Kent who survives, together with a sister, Mrs.
John Barfield, brother Edward N.
Gregory of Naples, stepchildren, Homer C. Kent of this city, Mrs. Roy Rub-right of Hammond, Indiana, grandson, Jimmy Kent and nieces and nephews.

Mr. Gregory was for years affiliated with the Knights of Pythias. His friendly and generous nature won for him many friends who will be grieved
to learn of his untimely death.

Funeral services will be held at the home this afternoon at three o'clock with Rev. D. C. Byus officiating. Interment will be in Diamond Grove Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Taylor was solemnized Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Central Christian church parsonage, Rev. M. L. Pontius performing the double ring ceremony.
They were attended by Mr. and Mrs.
Russell Chapman of Manchester.

The bride was charmingly attired
in a powder blue gown with white accessories. Her flowers were roses and sweet peas.

Mrs. Chapman wore a dress of shell pink with corresponding white accessories, her corsage being of roses and
sweet peas.

Mrs. Taylor graduated from the Jacksonville High school with the class of 1934.
Mr. Taylor was graduated with the class of 1932 and is employed by the Atlantic and Pacific Tea company.

The couple began a wedding trip shortly after the ceremony which will take them through the northern states. They planned to stop at Devils Lake and the Dells in Wisconsin.
After Sept. 1, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor
will be at home at 1018 Grove street.

BLAMES TIN CANS FOR PRAIRIE FIRES

Kansas Ranchman Claims
They Focus Sun's Rays
Like Magnifying Glass

James Hudson, cattle ranchman
from Ashland, Kas., brought with him
a solution to the mystery of prairie fires when he came to this county on business yesterday. According to Mr.
Hudson, tin cans are to blame for starting many of the grass conflagrations which have been ravaging the pasture lands of the midwest.

This was a new one on us. We had heard the blame placed with severity upon the motorists and campers who carelessly toss their cigarette stubs along the roads, but never before had we listened to anyone who blamed many of the grass fires upon such a harmless little object as a tin can.

But the tin can is not so harmless.
Mr. Hudson insisted, when the shiny part of it is lying so that it will reflect the sun. The glistering surface of the cans sometimes causes the rays of Old Sol to be brought to a focus, just as can be done with a magnifying glass. When these torrid rays are centered on such good tinder as parched grass, it doesn't take long for a little flame to spring up,
and then, before you know it, that little flame sweeps across field after field,
burning off what remains of the farmer's crops.

And so we add to our caution published several weeks ago, "Be careful where you toss tin cans as well as where you throw your cigarette stubs."

EXTINGUISH BLAZE

The Jacksonville fire department
made a rapid run to the Lafayette school at 11 o'clock yesterday morning,
but when they arrived on the scene of the reported conflagration they discovered that the new building, now
under construction, was not aflame.
However, in the school yard a kettle of pitch had caught fire, and the firemen had been called to use their chemicals to extinguish the blazing tar.

Oscar Miller was in the city yesterday from Yatesville.

White Hall Woman Suffers Broken Leg In Automobile Crash

Mrs. Anna Price Taken to Hospital; Other News from Community

White Hall—Mrs. Anna Price, about forty years of age, is a patient in the White Hall hospital, suffering with a broken left leg, numerous bruises and cuts about her body, the result of an auto accident, the details of which were not available. She was riding in the rumble seat of a Ford car, with several other persons, none of whose names are available when the accident occurred at the intersection of hard road Route 67, and the C. B. & Q. railroad and the Alton railroad, all three roads crossing at the north part of Main street, leaving White Hall.

Mark VanMeter and Jimmie Brissingham were waiting to drive onto the pavement near the Johnson Oil Station at this point. There is a short cut across the railroad tracks at this point, and the car in which Mrs. Price was riding drove off the pavement and struck the VanMeter car, and both cars were considerably damaged.

So far as can be determined no one else had more than minor cuts and bruises. Mrs. Price gave her address to the hospital authorities as 420 Ayers street, and said she had recently moved here.

Observes Birthday

John F. Price was 85 years old, Aug. 10 and a surprise birthday dinner was planned for him at his home on South Carrollton street on Sunday, August 9. All his children and grandchildren were present, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Kessler who keep house for him. He has three sons who reside on the farm west of White Hall. They and their families are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Price and three daughters, Helen,

Ruth and Irene; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Price and three daughters, Virginia, Louise and Margery; Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Price and son, Robert.

Mr. Price was a large land owner and farmer until several years ago he retired to reside in White Hall, and spends his time looking after his farm and city interests.

Surprise is Perfect

Frank Ricks, who lives at Patterson, also had a birthday surprise party on Thursday evening, planned by his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Dawdy who reside with him. So cleverly did Mrs. Dawdy manage that he did not even "catch on" when the guests began to arrive and he was coming to town to spend the evening with her. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ricks and family of East Alton; Dr. Kenneth Ricks and family and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ricks of White Hall. A splendid supper was served in his honor.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burchfield drove to Taylorville Sunday to attend the Burchfield reunion which was held at the old Burchfield home ten miles south of Taylorville. They expected to remain for several days visit with relatives. Their son, Cloyce who is already in Christian county visiting will return home with them.

Wayne Painter, who has been employed by the Shell Petroleum Company in the office has received a promotion and is now in the sales accounting department. He came Friday to spend the week-end with his mother, Mrs. Annie Painter on the farm in the High street neighborhood southwest of White Hall.

Miss Olive Strang who has been spending her vacation here with her father, W. S. Strang and her sisters, Miss Nell Strang and Mrs. H. C. Price expects to return to her home in St. Louis Wednesday of this week.

Eileen Shenkle will go to St. Louis this week to be one of the sponsors for

Miss Trahey Tells Of 9,000 Mile Trip

After an extended motor trip which took in sixteen states and two foreign countries, Miss Louise Trahey, secretary in the law offices of Hugh Green and Ray Grunty, is ready to settle down to the restful life of Jacksonville. Miss Trahey, who accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gilhofer and their sons Gene and Henry Thomas of Cairo, Ill., said that the total mileage on the tour exceeded 9,000 miles and that the trip lasted forty-four days. Mrs. Gilhofer is a sister of Miss Trahey.

The party visited three national parks en route, Yellowstone, Yosemite, and Grand Canyon. Starting out for the northwest, they went through Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Wyoming, and Montana, finally reaching Seattle, Wash., where they stopped for a brief respite before boarding a new streamlined steamer for a trip up Puget Sound to Victoria, Canada. The boat, named the Kalka, took them 250 miles at sea, stopping at the San Juan Islands off Roche Harbor, where the party was treated to an outdoor salmon barbecue. Miss Trahey remarked this morning that those salmon, fresh from the ocean waters, certainly tasted swell.

After this northern jaunt, the Illinois travelers headed south through Washington and Oregon into California, where they visited Frisco, San Diego, and other cities. Then, just to make the trip complete, they went on, down into Old Mexico before starting back east through the Grand Canyon country.

Texas, where the big centennial celebration is taking place this summer, was included on the itinerary as well as the Great Salt Lake in Utah.

MANSFIELD FAMILY HOLDS ITS REUNION

The 17th annual reunion of the Mansfield families was held at Nichols Park Sunday with about 100 members present. At noon a basket dinner was served cafeteria style, at which W. I. Wheeler of Scottville offered prayer.

In the afternoon there was a business session with Elmer Mansfield in charge. Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President—Coy Mansfield, White Hall; Vice president—Roy Mansfield, Franklin; Secretary and Treasurer—Mrs. Roy Hicks, Alexander, Ill.; Chairman of Ent. Comm.—Mrs. Cecil Mansfield, Jacksonville.

A history of the Mansfields was read by the historian, Mrs. Dora Loudermilk. Several births and marriages were added to the records. After the business session a short program was given. Several selections of music were given by Walter Collins, Melvin Mansfield and Mrs. Dora Ryan; Song—Welcome, by Myrna and Elsie Mansfield.

MRS. CHAPIN RETURNS FROM INDIANA TOUR

Mrs. H. A. Chapin, 1430 Mound avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Lyndell Rose and family have returned from a two weeks' vacation trip. They spent several days in Chicago and the remainder of the time at Winona Lake, Indiana. The party enjoyed the unusually interesting chautauqua sessions being held at Winona Lake, where there is also located a very fine school of music and theology. Many students avail themselves of courses held there annually, preparing for their Master's degree.

Mrs. Chapin stated that the weather was ideal and that the trip was delightful in every particular.

Mrs. John Zell Dies Sunday Morning After Short Illness

Wife of Local Business Man Succumbs to Heart Ailment Sunday

Mrs. Rose Devlin Zell, wife of John H. Zell, local business man, died Sunday at 10:20 a. m. after a short illness at Our Saviour's Hospital. Mrs. Zell went to the hospital Friday afternoon to undergo treatment for heart trouble.

Mrs. Zell was the daughter of the late John and Mary Ryan Devlin, and was born in Jacksonville August 11, 1870. Had she lived until Tuesday, she would have been 66 years of age. She was educated in the St. Patrick's Parochial School.

Next month would have marked the 40th anniversary of her marriage to John H. Zell, which took place Sep. 29, 1896. She was the devoted mother of three children, John W. Zell, of this city, Raymond Zell of Cheyenne, Wyoming, and Paul Zell, of this city, all of whom with her husband, survive. She also is survived by two grandchildren, Raymond Junior and Paul Junior.

Her parents, a brother and two sisters preceded Mrs. Zell in death. Mrs. Zell was a member of the Church of Our Saviour, and was affiliated with two church organizations, the Ladies Aid Society and the Altar Society.

Funeral services will be held at 8:30 a. m. Wednesday at the church. The remains were removed to the O'Donnell and Reavy Funeral Home, where they were prepared for burial. The body is now at the late home, 545 South Main street, where it will remain until time for the services.

Newsboys Have Big Time in St. Louis; See Doubleheader

Street Sellers Guests of Journal and Courier at Ball Games

The boys who every afternoon sell Couriers on the streets of the city were the guests of the Journal and Courier Sunday for a trip to St. Louis where they saw the St. Louis Cardinals lose two games to the Cincinnati Reds. For most of the boys, the two losses were the only disappointing features of a grand outing.

The caravan of five automobiles which took 18 boys to the game, left here at 9 a. m. and all of the cars and boys were back in Jacksonville by 10 o'clock Sunday night.

The boys reached St. Louis in time to have lunch before the opening of the double header, and following the game, they had another lunch before they began the return trip.

James McSherry, city distribution manager, was in charge of the trip. Forest Devore, B. C. Ketter, George Geanetos and Wilbur DePrates also furnished automobiles.

Sellers who made the trip were Henry Smith, N. Smith, William Samples, Sandberg, Jos. Tribble, Kenneth Surratt, Merle Meneses, Junior White, John Doyle, Robert Wolke, Junior Fortney, Eugene Hundley, Oliver Lawson, Holley, Floyd Samples, Billy DePrates, Edward McSherry, and Paul Kitter.

Mrs. Sara Stockton Of Virginia Dies

Funeral Services Will Be Held This Afternoon for Cass Resident

Virginia—Mrs. Sara Allen Stockton, of Virginia, died at her home at 7 o'clock Sunday evening, at the age of 78 years. She was born south of the city, March 17, 1858.

Mrs. Stockton was the daughter of James M. Daugherty and Sara Merica Daugherty. She was married as a very young woman to William Myers, who passed away very soon after their marriage. She was later married to Joseph Stockton, who died August, 1920.

She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Rilla Stanley, who resides at the home, also several nieces and nephews. Funeral services will be held today at 2:30 o'clock at the Christian home. Interment will be at the Walnut Ridge cemetery.

Players Cringe When He Roars

Away back in 1913, Hollywood was shaken by the roars of a new director, Cecil B. DeMille. Today, at the age of 55, DeMille, shown above, is directing his 63d film and still fumes and rants at his players. But they worship him, nevertheless.

Begin Oiling Two Roads Yesterday

Will Be Closed During Oiling Operations; Casler Asks for Cooperation

County Superintendent of Highways W. J. Casler yesterday morning started road oiling operations on two roads in this county, and urged that persons who use these roads remain off them until the oil has had an opportunity to sink into the ground.

Both roads, one from Arcadia to U. S. Route 67 and the other from Strawn's Crossing to Jacksonville, were ordered closed during the oiling operations.

Mr. Casler left yesterday morning to transact business in another community.

REVIVALS CONTINUE AT GOSPEL TENT ON NORTH CLAY AVENUE

The revival continues with increasing crowds and interest under the big gospel tent at North Clay and Independence Aves. The old time gospel is being preached in the power of the spirit.

Paul Thompsons are Back from Trip East

Miss Mary Mina Thompson in Summer School; Study Many Theaters

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thompson, 908 West College avenue have returned from a trip in the east, where they visited at the home of Mrs. Ethan Ellis of New Brunswick, New Jersey.

Mrs. Thompson, who is instructor in the speech department at Illinois College, while in the east visited many summer theatres for the purpose of viewing the material and setting used and of gaining new ideas for her work at the college. She found it very interesting from that standpoint, especially since remodeling of the Illinois College theatre is contemplated. Mrs. Thompson found that any available building was used, which seemed promising for the purposes of the theatre. These were redrafted according to the needs of dramatic groups and made into very well constructed play houses.

A purpose of the trip taken by Mr. and Mrs. Thompson was also to place Miss Mary Mina Thompson, their daughter in the Lake Shore Theatre Colony at Westport, Massachusetts. Miss Thompson was awarded a scholarship for a six week's course at the Theatre Colony. She has been prominent in dramatics at the college, appearing in the outstanding productions.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson report a very interesting sojourn in the east, where they also visited many cities of interest.

SOMETHING OLD—
Savings & Loan is Over 100 Years Old

SOMETHING NEW—
Air Ships—
Sailing Aloft Above Us—

When something sails across our horizon, our curiosity impels us to find out what it is all about.

Yet when an established institution develops to a point of having served hundreds of people in our community, financing homes and paying out thousands of dollars in maturities to investors, we take it more or less for granted.

The Jacksonville Savings and Loan was glad to pay to its members thirty-seven thousand dollars this past month—money accumulated through small savings over a period of years. If you are not familiar with Savings & Loan as a safe investment, or a means of paying for a home, ask for names of some of our hundreds of members and let them tell you what they think about—Jacksonville Savings & Loan.

THE VIENNESE ROOF ATOP THE FAMOUS ST. REGIS HOTEL IN NEW YORK duplicates the resplendent ballroom of the Imperial Summer Palace in Schönbrunn, Austria. A model of decorative taste and justly famous for the excellence of its choice dishes, The Viennese Roof is a favorite rendezvous of those who wish to escape from the summer heat and enjoy themselves in cool and charming surroundings. Here at the St. Regis, as at other fine dining places from coast to coast, Camels are the preferred cigarette. "Our patrons understand the art of dining well," says Lawrence, deit maitre d'hôtel of The Viennese Roof. "You can see Camels on nearly every table. They certainly are the most popular cigarette at The Viennese Roof."

CHAMPION DIVER. Mickey Riley says: "Camels help my digestion. I enjoy them at my meals and afterwards. Boy, Camels have a great taste!" Camels never get on your nerves—never tire your taste.

AS EVERY Camel smoker knows, Camels at mealtime help to create a cheery sense of well-being. You eat with relish—digest with greater ease. Camels increase the flow of digestive fluids...alkaline digestive fluids...in a pleasant way.

Like Frank Buck, Lee Gehlbach, Mickey Riley, Bill Tilden, Tony Manero, Willie Hoppe, and millions of other discriminating smokers who prefer Camels and recommend them, you too will find Camels an enjoyable aid in easing the tension of modern life. With their "lift"...their aid to digestion...and their mild, rich flavor, Camels do indeed set you right!

Each Camel at mealtime adds its measure of cheer ...stimulates digestion...increases alkalinity. So—

Hog, Cattle Prices Advance On Market

Receipts Fall More in Line With Requirements

Chicago, Aug. 10.—(P)—Hog and cattle prices advanced today under the stimulus of good commercial demand. Receipts fell below week ago offerings and were more in line with trade requirements.

Hogs closed strong to 15 cents higher, with spots up more, while pigs were mostly steady. The market top was $11.30.

Fed steers and yearlings and all she stock ruled 15 to 25 cents higher in an unusually active trade for Monday. The cattle run was 7,000 head below receipts a week ago, which was the largest supply in 3 years, but about 8,000 western grassers were shipped in here. Best fed steers topped at $9.65. Stockers gained mostly 25 cents and vealers were 25 to 50 cents higher.

Because of the cattle trade strength government agents decided not to take any animals on the drought relief account. The feeder market was strengthened by corn belt rains and by easing corn prices.

The sheep and lamb run increased, a larger movement of range stock swelling offerings, and the supply here was 2,000 above expectations and 5,000 more than a week ago. This weakened the market for fat lambs considerably and prices were 25 to mostly 50 cents lower. A few choice natives topped at $10.50.

Wholesale pork and beef prices were unchanged. They have shown little change in the past week.

Grain Values Drop In Chicago Market

News of Price Break at Winnipeg Brings Decline

Chicago, Aug. 10.—(P)—More than 3 cents Winnipeg wheat price break to under $1.00, disregarding Canadian government confirmation of big crop losses, jolted Chicago grain values downward today.

Disappointing action of the Liverpool wheat market preceded the Winnipeg weakness. Meanwhile, most Chicago traders were inclined to mark time while awaiting the United States government crop report which was due after today's dealings had ended, and which proved to be sensationally bullish as to corn in particular.

Pronounced dearth of demand from overseas for wheat from Canada today was a feature, and Liverpool cables said private advices indicated wheat yields in Canada were exceeding expectations. Winnipeg messages reported weakness there was largely on account of hedging sales against new crop movement and because European importers were showing a disposition just now to buy native wheat in preference either to Canadian or Argentine grain.

The Chicago wheat market closed weak at virtually the day's bottom level, Sept. 1.10 1/2-1, Dec. 1.10 1/2-1, May 1.10 1/2-1, corn 8-15 down, Sept. 1.03 1/2-1, Dec. 92 1/2-1, May 89 1/2-1, oats unchanged to 1/2 lower, Dec. 42 1/2-1, and rye 1-1 1/2 off, Dec. 77 1/2. In provisions, the results varied from 7 cents decline to an advance of 2 cents.

Farm and Rural Interest

Warns That Newly Sown Alfalfa Must be Protected From Grasshoppers; They Even Eat Big Cucumbers; Soybeans Hit Record; Meat to be High

Water May Take Place Of Oil In Hopper Bait

Urbana, Ill., Aug. 10.—Warning Illinois farmers that much of the alfalfa sown during the next few weeks will need to be protected from damage by grasshoppers, W. P. Flint, chief entomologist, Illinois Natural History Survey and the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, announced that water can be substituted successfully for oil or molasses in poison bait mixtures made with liquid sodium arsenite.

"Fall sown small grain may also need to be protected," Flint said. "The mixture can be scattered along the margins of newly sown fields. Grasshoppers are now so well distributed that the most effective time for poisoning is past. However, much corn can still be saved by one application of poison bran bait, especially where the hoppers are coming into corn from adjoining fields."

In using water for mixing bait, Flint recommends 100 pounds of bran, 2 quarts of sodium arsenite and 10 gallons of water. Liquid sodium arsenite only can be used in this type of bait and is one of the cheapest effective poisons.

The bran is spread on a mixing platform, wagon bed or tight floor. Water and sodium arsenite are thoroughly mixed and a part of the solution poured on the bran which is stirred as in mixing concrete. The sodium arsenite—water mixture is added until it has all been taken up by the bran.

Since the sodium arsenite is highly caustic and will burn the bare skin, it is best to use rubber gloves or greased leather gloves and avoid splashing the body or clothing.

For best results the mixture must be spread early in the morning, preferably before 5 o'clock, so that it is still moist when the grasshoppers eat it. The bait may be mixed the night before.

Greased or rubber gloves must be used in scattering the bait, which should be spread at the rate of 10 pounds to the acre as evenly as possible over the area to be poisoned. In standing corn, the mixture may be sown from horseback.

Grasshoppers Dig Into Marimoth Cucumbers Here

Allen Leake, who operates a farm northwest of the city brought in an extra large sized cucumber to the office yesterday and showed us just where the grasshoppers had started to eat it up. The insects, it seems, are eating just about every crop there it, unlike the chinch bugs which leaves some types of plants entirely alone.

This particular cucumber, which was 12 inches long and which weighed 21 pounds, had a hole in it about half an inch deep where the hoppers had been gnawing away. Mr. Leake said that rain within the next two or three days was necessary if he was to produce a good crop of cucumbers.

On Frank Souza's farm north of the city a gilt produced a litter of seventeen little pigs recently. That's doing pretty good, and we'd like to hear from any other farmers in this section of the country who have sows that can beat it.

Bond List Drops To Lower Levels

Declines Kept Small; Few Issues On Upside

New York, Aug. 10.—(P)—The bond market followed stocks to lower levels today, although declines in the more active issues were small and scattered buying kept a selected group on the upside.

Trading tapered off from the brisk turnover in the closing days of last week when the market was firm. Sales aggregated $9,750,000 compared with $13,166,000 Friday, of which government accounted for around $500,000.

The desire to take profits was not very pronounced during the morning when a fairly steady tone ruled the entire list.

The Associated Press averages of the four most active groups showed a decline of .1 of a point each. The 10 low yield bonds held unchanged at 111.8.

CHICAGO CASH GRAIN

Chicago, Aug. 10.—(P)—Cash wheat

was unchanged to 1 cent lower today. The basis was firm. Receipts were 139 cars; shipping sales 105,000 bushels; booked to arrive 3,000 bushels.

Corn was unchanged to 1 cent lower. Receipts were 394 cars; shipping sales 22,000 bushels; booked to arrive 16,000 bushels.

Oats were unchanged to 1 cent lower. Receipts were 63 cars; shipping sales 12,000 bushels.

Stock Mart Takes Tumble Near Close

Profit Taking Causes Losses After Early Gains

New York, Aug. 10.—(P)—After striding forward most of the session the stock market stumbled over profit taking in late trading today and closed with losses of fractions to a point or so predominating.

Wall Street observers were reluctant to give hard and fast explanations for the offerings.

Some said the decline in Steel offerings for the current week combined with lower prices for grains and cotton put traders in a hesitant frame of mind.

Others declared the late recession was an outgrowth of technical conditions.

Measured by the Associated Press average of 60 shares the market dropped 2 of a point to 69.4. Chart analysts said of the manner in which trading activity slumped on the decline was a favorable technical signal. Transactions totaled 1,334,750 shares compared with 1,572,940 Friday.

Firming of foreign copper prices revived hopes for another advance in domestic prices and brisk demand for leading issues netted gains of fractions to a point or so.

Lincoln Steffens is Dead at 70 Years

Was Crusading Leader in "Muckraking" Era

Carmel, Cal.—(AP)—Lincoln Steffens, crusading leader in the so-called "muckraking" era of American journalism, is dead.

The 70-year-old writer, lecturer and onetime newspaper and magazine editor, succumbed to a heart ailment at his Carmel home, pressing with his last, feeble strength the hand of his divorced wife, Ella Winter, radical author.

Their 10-year-old son, Peter, who friends said was the inspiration of one of Steffens' last works—his autobiography—also was at the bedside when death came late yesterday.

Educated in California and universities of Europe, Steffens, a native of San Francisco, entered the newspaper field in New York and in 1902 became managing editor of McClure's Magazine.

In this position and later, as associate editor of the American and Everybody's Magazine, he encouraged the school of journalism to which President Theodore Roosevelt applied the term of "muckraking."

Steffens led the crusade, aimed at fraud, graft and social injustice in both public and private affairs, with his series of articles on "The Shame of the Cities," "The Struggle for Self-Government," and others.

Snake on Beam at Church Illustrates Parson's Sermon

Chautauqua, Ill.—(AP)—A yard-long snake, coiled overhead on a beam of the auditorium platform, gave forceful emphasis to the Rev. T. B. Ueber's sermon yesterday on "The Lure of Life."

A bat had been darting back and forth and, in the midst of the sermon, there was a flutter and a squeak as the snake seized and swallowed its prey. It looked for an instant like the snake might fall from the beam, but it held on.

After the services, an attempt to dislodge the snake failed, so one of the congregation went for his rifle and shot it down. A man who professed to know his snakes said it was a land moccasin.

APPROVE PROJECT

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—Approval of a $10,824,000 federal and highway program for Illinois coincided today with Robert Kinney's letter of resignation as director of public works and buildings.

As Kinney's department was ready to take bids on the first of 72 projects for 1936-37, Governor Horner said he would confer Wednesday with the director as to whether the resignation would be accepted.

The Federal Bureau of Public Roads agreed to furnish $5,165,226 toward the cost of the highway program, with the state paying $5,658,774.

CAT FEEDS RABBIT

Danville, Ill.—(AP)—Reversing the usual order, Tabby, a black cat owned by Mrs. Fred Bahls, living near here, is feeding a baby rabbit rather than devouring it to assist in the raising of her three tiny offspring.

The rabbit, Mrs. Bahls said today, threatens to starve the kittens since it is able to walk and reaches the mother much faster than the three kittens at mealtime.

RESORT HOTEL

BEGIN HERE TODAY

ANN HAMILTON, pretty young secretary in a large business office, goes to a travel agency to make plans for her two-week vacation.

BILL WARE, travel bureau employee, persuades her to go to Lake Racine. Bill is obviously attracted by Ann, but she gives him little thought.

Ann goes to the mountain resort and at first is lonely. Then she meets RALPH SPRING, head boatman, who tells her he is not interested in girls. Ralph introduces her to JAIMIE LUEDD, wealthy playboy. Jaimie is handsome and attentive. Ann tries to persuade him to do something useful with his life but he laughs at this. She also meets LEFTY POND, married but flirtatious.

Bill Ware arrives at Lake Racine and is annoyed to find Ann with so many other admirers. Ann spends a day sailing with Jaimie and he asks her to make a weekend trip to Canada. She says "No."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER X

BILL WARE took mountain climbing seriously. While Ann and Jaimie were sailing on the lake he had climbed a little mountain, being careful not to render unused muscles sore. He went at it with vim. Then, with Ann, he tackled a stiff climb in the Cascade Range. After a week of this gradual process the pair of them felt like seasoned mountaineers. Their interest in other activities waned. Each climb was an adventure.

Late in the afternoons they would go down to the boathouse and take a swim with Ralph Springs, the boatman.

Ann was teaching Ralph to dance, and he, in turn, was showing her the American crawl. Their skill increased day by day, though Ralph wasn't reconciled to Jaimie's monopoly of Ann's evenings. He took her to task one day.

"I believe you're like all the rest," Ralph said. "All you think about is a good time. The girl I marry will have to be made of sterner stuff than most of the girls I see around here. Silly little empty heads don't mean anything to me."

Ann smiled. After all, it was through Ralph that she had met Jaimie. She couldn't be angry with him.

She was flattered that Bill had changed his vacation plans just to be near her, but she couldn't see him in a romantic light.

BUT Bill had found himself now. He had seen his kid brother through high school, and his responsibilities had waned. He had a job that he liked, and had earned a raise. Now he was willing to fall in love! He was looking around for the girl, and Ann was the girl.

She saw less of Jaimie now, for he complained of his daily losses on the races. He stayed in the furtive little betting room all day long, trying to recuperate.

On the tenth day of her vacation Ann suggested to Bill that they climb the highest peak, Mt. Racine. It was an all-day trip, and he considered a dangerous climb. One had to use crampons and ropes on the upper reaches of the mountain.

They were all morning reaching the foot of the rocky portion of the climb. They lunched from their rucksacks at the last lean-to, and after a short rest resumed the arduous work among the precipices. Above them lay the spiny peak, topped by an ominous black cloud—the ridge which led to it like the horny ridges of a dinosaur's back.

Toward 3 o'clock they reached the summit of the mountain, where a cold wind from the north whipped them mercilessly. It was so strong that they had to cling to the rocks with their hands, lying down for a view of the surrounding ranges of mountains and hills. The black clouds were lowering all about them now. Intermittent flashes of lightning broke the darkness above them.

AFTER 10 minutes at the top they started down. Once, when the thunder crashed loudly in their ears, Ann drew close to Bill. Her hands shook a little, and she clung to his wrists. It steadied her.

"Steady!" he said. "You're safer here than down in the valley."

But when she looked at him she realized the danger the storm held out to them on the jagged rocks below. They were half way down the rocky climb when the storm broke. In a few seconds Ann was drenched, and the water was pouring in rivulets from rock to rock.

Bill strove manfully to keep them from slipping; he braced himself when Ann was descending the rocky ledges. There was but one thought in their minds now—to reach the lean-to halfway down the mountain. There was no longer any thought of reaching the valley before dark.

In that moment of danger, she came to see Bill Ware for what he really was. She had no doubt that he was in love with her. He had told her so, time and time again. He had always been confident of proving his love for her.

Now he was proving his love for her. Perhaps it was merely the instinct of a man who wants to protect the thing that is dear or necessary to him, but to Ann at this time Bill was like one of those knights in shining armor.

Bill Ware, whom she had seen every week for six years in a city office. Facing the hazards of the mountains, he was like a young savage.

Bill sat moodily before the fire, smoking the tobacco he had salvaged from the rain. He was a little worried about what the gossips at the hotel would say. It might have been the heavy draughts of tea that kept him awake. But when the storm had abated and the first streaks of dawn blazed over the mountainside, he was still sitting there before the fire, watching over Ann.

The winds shrieked and howled. The waters poured over them, soaking Ann to the skin. But because of the blackness of the night came down they reached the log lean-to, and pushed inside, safe from the wind and rain at last. There was no thought of reaching the valley that night. The mountain stream below them was swollen, and its roar reached their ears above the fury of the storm.

AS soon as Bill had caught his breath, he wrapped a handkerchief over his bleeding hands and looked about them for something with which to build a fire. There was always wood in the lean-to. Bill found matches and paper, and quickly had the fireplace aglow. He took off his own boots, to dry them.

Ann was wet to the skin. She disrobed in the woodshed and handed out her clothes to Bill to dry. She donned a pair of trousers and an old, seedy coat someone had left there, and came out to help tend the blaze.

They both looked like castaways on the beach when they dined on the remnants of their rucksack lunches. Ann brewed tea, and the warm liquid took away their chill. The interior of the lean-to became warm and comfortable, and there was plenty of food to feed the fire all night long.

Barefoot, they sat before the burning logs, and watched the sparks fling up the chimney. There was so much to be said that nothing was said. Bill smoked his pipe and watched her, not too closely, speaking in hushed monosyllables. Ann leaned back against a bunk and stared at the flames.

"Happy?" he said. She nodded her head sleepily. "Afraid?"

"Not any more."

They looked into the flames, both joyously content with the world, while the elements raged outside. Bill didn't try to tell her of his love. He merely looked after her comfort, and told her trivial, meaningless incidents in his life. She liked to hear him talk; his voice tonight was like a caress.

At 10 o'clock she crawled into one of the bunks and went fast asleep.

Bill sat moodily before the fire, smoking the tobacco he had salvaged from the rain. He was a little worried about what the gossips at the hotel would say. It might have been the heavy draughts of tea that kept him awake. But when the storm had abated and the first streaks of dawn blazed over the mountainside, he was still sitting there before the fire, watching over Ann.

Scott County Day To Be Observed At St. Louis Ball Park

More Than 200 Boys, Girls To See Game Today Between Cards, Cubs

Winchester, Aug. 10.—Plans were completed this evening for the transportation of 214 boys and girls from Winchester and vicinity to St. Louis tomorrow morning to witness a ball game at Sportsman's park between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Chicago Cubs, who are at the present time engaged in a very close race for the National League pennant. It is expected that perhaps as many more boys and girls from Bluffs, Exeter, Glasgow, Alsey and Manchester will join with the delegation from Winchester in connection with the tour which is being sponsored by the Jacksonville Journal-Courier, the Winchester Kiwanis Club, the Bluffs Civic Club and other groups in other towns in the county.

Tomorrow will be Scott County Day at Sportsman's park and recognition will be given to the group making the tour by the Cardinal club. The caravan from Winchester will form in the public square at 10 o'clock in the morning and cars will be provided for all boys and girls who have registered to make the trip. The caravan from Bluffs will join the Winchester group and then continue together to Alsey and Manchester where the caravan will be joined by the cars from South Scott county.

Tickets for all of the boys and girls will be furnished by the Journal-Courier free of charge and arrangements have been made for a reduction in the bridge toll across the Lewis and Clark bridges at Alton for cars traveling with the caravan. Reserved seats for the boys and girls have been arranged for the drivers of the cars and they may be purchased from Robert Frost, chairman of the committee of the Winchester Kiwanis Club which is in charge of local arrangements. The boys and girls who are making the trip have been instructed to take their lunch with them.

The Illinois state highway police will escort the caravan from Scott county to Alton where it will be met by the Missouri highway police who will escort it to St. Louis and through the city to the ball park. Special parking arrangements will be provided at the ball park for the cars in the caravan.

There have been about 40 cars promised to carry the Winchester boys and girls. The committee in charge would like to have additional cars available in event there is not room for the 214 who have registered to make the trip. It is thought that several additional cars will be needed.

News Notes

INQUIRE INTO DEATH OF CHAS. CHARACTER

Carrollton, Ill., Aug. 10.—A coroner's jury sworn in by Coroner J. Russell Shields, Saturday morning for an inquest into the cause of the death of Carter Character, Jr., an 11 year old Negro, of Alton, and composed of the following jurors, Lee Macfarlane, foreman; Joseph Gleason Harold Hillig, William Brandt of Carrollton; Chas. and Claude Burghardt of Greenfield, arrived at the following verdict, at the continued session at 1 p. m. Monday. "We the jury find that Carter Character came to his death from injuries received when thrown from a car that was struck by a car driven in a reckless manner by L. O. Sullivan of White Hall. Verdict, homicide." Sullivan had been released from custody in the Greene county jail Saturday on a bond of $5,000.00 set by Justice Walter Postelwait, to hold Sullivan for the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter. The bond was furnished by Otis Sullivan of East Alton a brother and Mayor W. Price Lindsey of Carrollton. It is not yet known whether Monday's verdict will change the amount of bond or not. The Character youth was instantly killed at 11:15 Friday night, about 3 1/2 miles north of here, on route 67, when the car in which he and five other Negroes were returning to Alton from a choir rehearsal in Jacksonville, was hit by a north bound car, driven by O. L. Sullivan, and in which George Sullivan a brother was riding.

Both cars were overturned and in the car which the young Character was riding, all five others were more or less seriously injured. This car was driven by Fred Carter, of 1927 Grove St., Alton, an uncle of the dead youth. Both Sullivans escaped injuries and were lodged in the county jail until 2 p. m. Saturday.

HAVIGHURST TRIP HOME DELAYED BY ILLNESS IN BERLIN

Dr. F. A. Havighurst, pastor of Grace M. E. church, will not be in the city for services next Sunday as planned. Word has been received here that he was confined for a time in a Berlin, Germany, hospital.

A physician there refused to allow him to sail on a boat leaving August 1. Food which he had eaten in Russia was given as the cause of the ailment.

It is thought that Dr. Havighurst sailed for New York last Saturday.

Walker-Holloway Family Reunion Is Held Sunday

Annual Gathering of Relatives Draws 105; Name New Officers

Descendants of the late James and Susannah Darnell Walker, and Mr. and Mrs. John Holloway held their fourteenth annual reunion at the Kiwanis hut Sunday. Approximately 105 persons gathered for the fried chicken dinner, contests and program which followed.

These two old families were among those first to emigrate here from Winchester, Kentucky, coming in 1837. They were parents of the late Isaiah Walker and Georgia Holloway who will be remembered as land owners and highly esteemed citizens of Scott county.

Miss Marjorie Walker was in charge of the program Sunday. Miss Edna Elsen Walker has been chosen to take charge next year. A softball game was played in the afternoon.

Mrs. Henry Herron was chosen secretary again for next year. Plans were made to hold the 1937 reunion at the Kiwanis hut.

Hayden Walker, business manager, gave a very interesting talk relating to the life of the Walkers and Holloways.

A song, "Nobody's Darlin' But Mine," was sung by E. F. Walker, Fred M. Walker, Kenneth Walker and Clyde Warcup.

Only one marriage occurred this year that of Allie Walker and Henry Herron.

Today Is Dollar Day In Jacksonville; Bargains Offered To Shoppers

Today is Dollar Day in Jacksonville! The announcement that merchants of Jacksonville are again offering Dollar Day bargains forecasts the same unusual values that shoppers have learned are in store for them on similar occasions. This city has long been noted for its real value giving offerings on Dollar Day and the people of Jacksonville and the surrounding trading area are again offered opportunities to make advantageous purchases.

Admittedly it has been a tough season on the merchants; goods have not moved as they normally should; it's been a time of abnormal temperatures and folks have shopped as little as

Now the business men find their stores overstocked with seasonal merchandise that must be moved regardless of cost. And, just to make Dollar Day more worth while for you this year, many merchants are making definite reductions on recently arrived new fall goods.

There are many weeks of warm weather ahead when there will be need for light weight clothing of all sorts and merchants are making drastic cuts all along the line in order to clear these stocks. There will be appreciated reductions in house furnishings, foodstuffs, and every wanted item—not a special item here and there, but a whole city-full of timely, desirable merchandise. In fact the retail division of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce is determined to make this Dollar Day outstanding for the quality of goods offered, wide variety, and low prices charged.

Shopping will be made easier and much more satisfactory if buyers will read the advertisements in this paper and make a memorandum of the items interested in. This will save time and afford visitors to the business district a greater opportunity to window-shop, and to call at more stores to note the splendid selections obtainable in Jacksonville, and to learn the very modest prices charged.

It's your chance! Read the advertisements first, then visit the Jacksonville stores early.
